"Turning the page"
"Turning over a new leaf"
"A new chapter"

... all expressions of hope and progress
... and all reflecting the significance of books and of reading
-and of libraries- to our lives and to the well-being of our community

Turning the page- in clay, to be cast in bronze. Hand is approx. life size

The Uxbridge Public Library has commissioned this sculpture to recognize the importance of books and libraries- and in remembrance of Alexandra Hartmann, who had worked at the library for 15 years, and was the CEO when she passed away in September 2018.

The sculpture, to be cast in bronze, has been created by Uxbridge sculptor Wynn Walters, who also created the Col. Sam Sharpe statue across the road. It will be installed beside the main entrance, facing the street, but also visible from inside. The sculpture will be financed by donations.

in honour of Alex, and in support of the library. It will be a significant addition to public art in the Uxbridge area, as a gift to the community from the library.

Donations may be made at the library, or sent to Uxbridge Public Library, 9 Toronto St. South P O Box 279, Uxbridge ON L9P 1P7. Donations of $20 or more will receive a tax receipt.

Cheques should be made out to
